Course in South Africa

Arthur and Olga Alard, International College of Bible and Missions, Johannesburg, South Africa. Olga taught a course on religious pluralism. The students gained understanding in how to train others in local churches to teach sound doctrine and engage their local post-modern and relativistic culture.

Discovery Bible Study

Lynn Eber, WWMT certified facilitator. "Discovery Bible Study is my favorite Entrust course. When we work together on a passage and evaluate the conclusions together, each person gains skill in digging deeper and understanding better." DBS participants will continue to apply their new skills to help others study and understand scripture.

An Asian theologian

Victor Thomas (not his real name), director of extension training at a large Bible college and leader of a faculty writing team. He works closely with Entrust, through a series of writing workshops, to develop contextualized curriculum for local church leaders. "This workshop is a true investment in the future of the church in Asia."

Middle Eastern pastors' conference

Twelve pastors, none with formal pastoral training, all serving in difficult circumstances, arrived at our Entrust conference overworked and weary. Yet they wanted more hours in the word! Morning to evening, Bibles were out, discussions underway, souls nourished. They went home re-energized and ready to pour into others.

... and a new president!

After a long and careful search, God led us to Chris Goree as the new president of Entrust. He and his wife Laurie bring depth of character, years of ministry experience and passion for multiplying leaders for multiplying churches.
